What's Happening: New Hamburg Art Tour

By Matt Betts New Hamburg Independent

Thursday, July 21, 2022

The New Hamburg Art Tour is returning to the community in September.

After a two-year break due to the COVID-19 pandemic, residents will have the opportunity to attend and view artwork from 20 different artists who call the Township of Wilmot and Waterloo Region home.

Artists disciplines include painters, sculptors, fibre and textile, photographers mixed media and more.

“The New Hamburg Art Tour is a fabulous way for people to get out again and celebrate the cultural vibrancy of our community in a warm and friendly atmosphere,” Nancy Taves, chairperson and treasurer of the New Hamburg Art Tour said. “It's beneficial, following pandemic restrictions, to reignite people's passion for the arts and improve quality of life for the community and beyond. The tour is an opportunity to meet visitors, both local and from other communities, who share an interest in art. It allows the artists to gain recognition, build on their talent, and inspire others.”
